Trieste Holds Key To Treaties With German Satellites

Test to Come Before Session Of Foreign Ministers in Paris

PARIS, June 19 (AP).—The Foreign Ministers' conference agreed today on one minor economic clause for the Italian Peace Treaty as diplomatic sources predicted that unless the key problem of Trieste was solved, the "de facto" division of Europe which had existed since the war's end would last "many years."

A British informant said the ministers agreed quickly on a clause protecting the rights of Italian nationals and property in areas to be ceded to other countries, chiefly France and Yugoslavia. It has been agreed in principle that both these countries will obtain frontier rectifications.

The balance of the session found the ministers in disagreement on clauses concerning restitution of Allied property in Italy, expropriations and compensation to Allied nationals in Italy for personal injuries.

State Secretary Byrnes of the United States, Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia and Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain cut short today's session to permit Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France to attend the meeting of the constituent assembly which elected him Provisional President of France.

The crucial issue of Trieste is scheduled to come up again soon, and an American delegation member said this was the "key" question in the writing of treaties for all former German satellites, topped in importance only by the German problem itself.

BULLETINS

Held for Theft

LONDON, June 19 (CP).—The Batavia correspondent of The London Daily Mail reported today the arrest of a British officer and sergeant in connection with a reputed theft of a Japanese cache of $28,000,000 worth of gold, jewels and cash.

Flood Kills 70

TEHRAN, June 19 (Reuters).—The twin rivers Tigris and Euphrates have overflowed their banks, flooded farm land including the Iranian Gulf port of Basra, killed at least 70 persons and left thousands homeless, press dispatches reported today.

Shares Stolen

VANCOUVER, June 19 (CP).—Theft of shares valued at $7,250 from a parked automobile here today was reported by A. E. Kazakoff, of Nelson, B.C. He reported to police that they were Rabochia Silver Mining & Lumber Co. shares.

Know Canada

TORONTO, June 19 (CP).—President Charles Beattie of the Canadian Association of Railwaymen told a meeting of the association tonight the organization "is going to try and make Canadians know Canada," and he questioned why Canadian unions should pay tribute to United States unions. "We are the only country in the Empire which pays such tribute," he said. "Let us govern ourselves in this country."

Cement Shortage

CALGARY, June 19 (CP).—The Calgary Albertan said in a newspage story tonight that a cement shortage has all construction in the city at a standstill. The paper quotes builders and contractors as saying it is virtually impossible to obtain cement for any purpose.

93,000 Idle

COLOMBO, Ceylon, June 19 (Reuters).—Ninety-three thousand workers are reported idle following a strike of Indian rubber and tea plantation workers seeking constitutional recognition, full franchise and citizenship rights. The workers started what they termed an "indefinite" strike a week ago.

Gas Shortage

TORONTO, June 19 (CP).—Toronto and other Ontario centres may be without gasoline within two weeks, unless a settlement is reached soon in the Great Lakes seamen's strike, it was learned tonight. Such a situation would overshadow wartime gas rationing and seriously affect all public services.

May Return To Soviet Citizenship

Subjects Now Outside Country Have Right

MOSCOW, June 19 (AP).—A decree offering citizenship to thousands of former subjects of the Czar and other Russians now living in France, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia, was published today by the Supreme Soviet Journal and signed by Nikolai Shvernik, presidium president.

There is no available estimate of how many persons may be affected by this decree, but in Paris alone there are thousands of former subjects of the empire.

Another decree signed by Generalissimo Stalin and published earlier by the army newspaper Red Star requires stricter discipline in the army and navy, including rigid observance of "the rules of military politeness and saluting."

The citizenship decree said that applicants for Soviet citizenship living in France may present statements to the Soviet Embassy before November 1 of this year. In Bulgaria and Yugoslavia the deadline will be October 1.

Not Centralizer Says Duplessis

QUEBEC, June 19 (CP).—Premier Duplessis said at a press conference tonight the province of Quebec was "ready to collaborate sincerely and loyally" with the Federal Government but "we shall never be willing to become the accomplices of centralizers nor to acquiesce to the violation of a pact of honor between the two great races of the country."

He was commenting on a statement in the House of Commons last night by Justice Minister St. Laurent that the Federal Government "does not derive its existence and its authority from the provinces and it does not need to go back to the provinces in order to say what Canada shall be in the future."

Printers' Strike To Conciliation

A conciliation board will be set up to deal with the case of striking printers of The Vancouver Daily Province, Labor Minister George S. Pearson announced today. The printers went on strike June 8 in support of printers of The Winnipeg Tribune who walked out rather than submit union laws to arbitration. The Province has not published an edition for 12 days.

Mr. Pearson has notified both sides in the dispute to appoint a representative to sit on the board. A chairman to make up a board of three may be agreed upon by the two sides or named by the minister.

The minister said that while conciliation proceedings to date appear to have been deadlocked, the employers had applied for a conciliation board.

Lumber Industry in B.C. to Roll Again After Month-Long Tie-Up

Scenes similar to this photograph at Cowichan Bay will be common again throughout Vancouver Island and Mainland coast logging areas of British Columbia following acceptance by the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.) of the settlement proposals of Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan, ending the 36-day-old tie-up of the lumbering industry in the province. Union officials announced in Vancouver yesterday that striking members would return to their jobs at 11 a.m. today, at which time an agreement is due to be signed here, if the recommendation is endorsed by the district locals.

Canada Favors U.S. Plan On Atomic War

NEW YORK, June 19 (CP).—Canada went on record today in favor of the United States plan to outlaw atomic warfare and eliminate the veto on atomic matters, but Soviet Russia formally presented her own atomic control plan which would put the whole system of control under the Security Council and the United Nations setup.

Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton told the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission that "Canada supports the principles on which these proposals (the proposals contained in the Baruch report made public last Friday) have been based" and declared that Bernard Baruch in the report "has given a lead worthy of a great nation."

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate, told the commission that an atomic commission he proposed for control of all atomic matters must conform to the principles laid down for the operations of the Security Council.

Mr. Gromyko said he made this statement because some efforts were being made to "undermine" the principle of unanimity of the powers. This principle provides that each of the five big powers can block by veto any substantive question arising in the Security Council.

Gen. McNaughton, Canada's delegate, told the commission that "the Canadian attitude towards the veto power . . . is that we have never liked it."

Duncan Chamber of Commerce Requests Union Leaders Be Canadian Citizens

DUNCAN, June 19.—A resolution urging the Federal Government to pass legislation requiring officials of labor unions to be citizens of Canada was approved by Duncan Chamber of Commerce during discussion of the recent I.W.A. strike.

Members also passed resolutions stressing that labor union officials should work continuously in industries they represent, that an independent audit and full publicity be given to union funds, that voting on labor disputes be supervised by the Provincial Government, and that every employee in an industry be allowed to vote on labor matters, regardless of union membership.

I.T.U. Laws Conflict With Federal Code

OTTAWA, June 19 (CP).—Labor Minister Mitchell said today in the Commons that rules of the International Typographical Union (A.F.L.), involved in a strike with newspapers of the Southam group, were in conflict with the Federal Labor Code.

Mr. Mitchell had been asked by Stanley Knowles (C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre) in regard to the situation at The Winnipeg Tribune. The Minister said the Code provided that all the terms of a collective agreement between employees and an employer were subject to final and binding arbitration.

"The Typographical Union insists its own general rules including local union rules must become a part of the collective agreement with every employer with whom such an agreement is negotiated," Mr. Mitchell said.

"One provision of the general rules of the union is that such rules are not subject to arbitration. In view of what I have just said it will be seen that the union law in that respect is in conflict with the provisions of the Wartime Labor Relations regulations."

Mr. Knowles also asked whether The Winnipeg Tribune had offered to submit its company by-laws to arbitration.

"I am informed that The Winnipeg Tribune did not insist that its by-laws should become part of the collective agreement between itself and the union," Mr. Mitchell replied.

Barbers Start Five-Day Week

If any of Victoria's males were unshaven yesterday it was not due to any build-up to a "pioneer days" celebration or indicative of a general slackening of male pride here, but to the fact barber shops in the city were closed all day yesterday.

According to a decision reached a few weeks ago barber shops here now observe the five-day week, closing Wednesdays in addition to Sundays.

G. A. Turner, president of the barbers' union, stated last night the union had received no complaints from any shop owner in the city regarding the shorter week, but he mentioned that the management of the Empress Hotel objected to the new ruling on the grounds it would work a hardship on guests at the hotel.

Blast in Germany Kills 83 Workers

HAENIGSEN, Germany, June 19 (AP).—At least 83 German and foreign workers were believed today to have been killed by an explosion of 10,000 tons of German Army ammunition stored in an unused salt mine in this village, 20 miles northeast of Hannover.

The blast, touched off in the 2,000-foot-deep mine Tuesday by a fire of undetermined origin, flung large steel girders of the pithead gear hundreds of feet and tore the roofs off mine buildings. It was heard 50 miles away at Brunswick.

Latin-America Aids In Supplying Food

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP).—Herbert Hoover today reported an improvement in the world food outlook as a result of Latin American co-operation in making available 800,000 extra tons of cereals and beans for the next few critical months.

Start Quarry Limestone On Mainland

One hundred thousand tons a year of agricultural limestone will be added to the production of the province when Farmer's Limestone, Ltd., begins quarrying operations southeast of Powell River on August 15, Michael O'Hara, general manager, said here yesterday.

According to Mr. O'Hara the aim of the company will be to provide agricultural lime at low cost to farmers of British Columbia.

"Situated at tidewater, as we are, will cut down the handling costs considerably," said Mr. O'Hara.

Storage plants have already been secured at strategic points throughout the province, buildings have been erected, a fresh water pipeline has been laid.

The project has been developed with the advice of Dr. W. F. Seyer, professor of chemical engineering, University of British Columbia.

"Intensive cultivation needs intensive fertilization, which, in turn, leads to increased production," said Mr. O'Hara. "Having lived in British Columbia for some years, I realize the great possibilities in the areas of this province suitable for agriculture, provided the land is replenished each year with fertilizer."

Swallows Teeth Gets Them Back

PHILADELPHIA, June 19 (AP).—A section of a dental plate was removed today from the throat of George Glass, 46-year-old Erie, Pa., store manager, who swallowed it while eating four days ago.

Doctors at Temple Hospital located the piece by X-ray and removed it with the aid of an aesophaguscope.

Television Records Fight Gromyko of Russia Attends

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP).—An estimated 100,000 fight fans who never got near Yankee Stadium tonight saw and heard Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis knock Billy Conn to the canvas just as plainly as if they had stood on the shoulders of a man with a $100 seat at the ringside.

The National Broadcasting Company did it with mirrors—and the rest of the paraphernalia which goes into 1946 television.

Television stations in New York City, Washington, Philadelphia and Schenectady carried the telecast, first ever made at a heavyweight championship bout.

In Washington 800 Government officials, including a couple of cabinet members and a supreme court justice, watched the fight on receivers set up at the Hotel Statler.

Five hundred persons sat in plush opera-type seats in the air-conditioned N.B.C. studios in Rockefeller centre and enjoyed the show over 19 commercial model receivers.

The image, reflected on a "screen" about 8½ by 11 inches, had all the clarity and fidelity found in the ordinary motion picture.

Despite Conn's furious backpedalling to keep his nose out of Louis' business-like jabs, the swivel-mounted camera never lost its quarry in the ring.

Among the celebrities who attended the fight was Ann Sheridan of the screen. She was followed by George Burns and Gracie Allen. Also in the crowd, to name a few more, were Frank Sinatra and Jack Oakie.

Three former heavyweight champions, including Jersey Jim Braddock who lost the crown to Louis, weighed in early. Jim sat with owner Charlie Stoneham and Manager Mel Ott of the New York Giants. The others were Jack Dempsey and Jack Sharkey.

The atomic era was represented by Dr. Robert Oppenheimer and Major General Leslie Groves of the atomic energy commission.

Andrei Gromyko, United Nation delegate from Russia was in the crowd, as was Joseph E. Davies, former United States Ambassador to Russia.

Gen. Carl Spaatz, chief of the army air forces and Gen. George C. Kenney, former air chief for Gen. MacArthur, topped the military representation.

Victoria Union Backs Decision To Settle Strike

Pritchett Says Each Local Must Take Vote Before I.W.A. Men Can Go Back to Jobs

Victoria Local 1-118, International Woodworkers of America, (C.I.O.), in common with several other I.W.A. locals throughout the province, last night endorsed the recommendations made yesterday by the Union District Council to accept the settlement proposals of Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan and thus end the 36-day-old lumber strike.

Harold Pritchett, I.W.A. district president, stated last night the council's recommendations will be voted upon by each union local before the men return to work.

Members in the Victoria area are holding themselves in readiness to return to work as soon as they are called by operators, it was reported.

The Vancouver local last night voted unanimously to return to work today, but Percy Smith, president, Local 1-357, with a membership of 4,000, said the sawmills in the New Westminster district will not open today. He said a meeting has been called for 1.30 p.m. today.

If the recommendations are accepted, he said, the New Westminster district workers will return to work at 8 a.m. Friday.

Mr. Pritchett said that men in the Northern and Southern Interior, for whom an agreement is yet to be negotiated under the direction of Chief Justice Sloan, will return to work immediately.

MAJORITY RULE WILL DECIDE

It is understood that the majority-rule prevails in the vote of the locals. If a majority vote for acceptance of the executive council recommendation, all must adhere to the decision.

Union recommendations for settlement of the dispute were based on proposals made by Chief Justice Sloan, Government-appointed mediator.

These proposals provide:

(1) Wage increase of 15 cents an hour across the board.

(2) A 48-hour week for the first six months; 40-hour week for the second six months, in logging camps; 44-hour week in sawmills.

(3) The jurist's interpretation of the union check-off, by which union members sign an "irrevocable" contract with the union to authorize employers to deduct union fees from pay cheques.

The strike began May 15 and ended 24 hours after Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell appointed Gordon Bell, of Vancouver, as controller, with power to order all strikers back to work in box factories and allied operations in an effort to save fruit, vegetable and fish packs.

City Plants Commence Work Today

Happiness Reigns At Strike's End

Definite arrangements have been made for work to start at the usual time this morning at the Moore-Whittington Lumber Co. plant here, Stanley Moore announced yesterday on learning of the end of the strike.

"The men are happy to come back to work," he said.

Mr. Moore also stated the company had a large back-log of orders, filling of which would require full production well into next year.

The plant of the Lemon, Gonnason Co., Ltd., has been maintained in readiness to start production as soon as official word of the strike ending has been received, officials reported.

Due to the necessity of raising steam, it is possible the B.C. Forest Products mill, formerly Cameron Lumber Co., might not be in operation before Monday morning, the manager indicated yesterday.

Local contractors also reported the strike's end was welcome news. Many have standing orders for supplies at local mills and all are optimistic regarding early production of much-needed building materials.

His important job ended at last, Chief Justice Sloan, before whom the papers will be signed here at 11 o'clock this morning, officially terminating the tie-up, declined comment yesterday.

"I'm very glad to hear they are going to sign an agreement," was all that Labor Minister G. S. Pearson had to say.

R. V. Stuart, representative of 147 lumber operators during the negotiations, said yesterday the announced termination of the strike was welcome news, and that everything would be done to work out good relations between management and the workers.

British Hunt Officers Missing in Palestine

JERUSALEM, June 19 (AP).—British troops pressing a broad hunt for six missing British officers killed two Jews in a clash near the Lebanese border today, raising to 24 the toll of dead in three days of violence in the turbulent Holy Land.

The latest clash occurred in the village of Kfar Giladi as troops and police joined in searching and blocking off huge areas of Palestine. Three other Jews were injured in the battle.

A Reuters Jerusalem dispatch said a Jewish boy named Izhak Portugali was seriously injured when he threw himself in front of tanks and armored vehicles during the search of Kfar Giladi. In a demonstration against the search, the boy permitted vehicles to run over him.

Reuters later reported that two British officers were detained by British military authorities in Tel Aviv Wednesday night after Amram Rosenberg, a 35-year-old Jew, was shot. A report from Tel Aviv said Rosenberg died in a hospital.

The apparent kidnapping of a sixth British officer was disclosed earlier today.

British soldiers with automatic weapons searched houses and patrolled streets of Tel Aviv, all-Jewish city of 200,000. Tel Aviv became a dead city under a strict curfew imposed at 5 a.m. today, with almost all residents remaining behind locked doors. Tonight army officers said the curfew would be lifted at midnight when search operations were completed. The curfew had been slated to extend until 4 a.m. tomorrow.

Safe in Egypt

GRAND MUFTI OF JERUSALEM

CAIRO, June 19 (AP).—The Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, Haj Mohammed Amin El Husseini, who escaped from France early this month, is in Egypt and will receive the sanctuary of the Egyptian Government, a highly reliable source said tonight.

The source said the Mufti had applied to King Farouk of Egypt for refuge and that it would be granted to him.

The 53-year-old Mufti, spiritual leader of Palestine Arabs, is an implacable foe of Jewish immigration into the Holy Land.

Complexions Here Tops Says Veteran Columnist

Lee Shippey, veteran American columnist, reclined in a chair on the Empress Hotel veranda yesterday afternoon and surveyed Victoria with a whimsical eye.

"Seems to be a combination of old world charm and new world bustle," he observed. "People are brisk here. They don't waste any time."

He added a word of gentle irony about the city's numerous antique shops, and said with a smile: "The girls up here have complexions that beat anything they promise in the radio ads."

Unhurried Lee Shippey, who believes in taking things easy, nevertheless has turned out his "Lee Side of Los Angeles" column for The Los Angeles Times every day except three for the last 20 years. Victoria will figure in his column during the next few days. "It'll be favorable," he promises.

A war correspondent for The Kansas City Star in 1914-18, Mr. Shippey left that newspaper after the Great War and made tracks for Mexico. He had a wife and child, practically no money and a yen for adventure. While Mrs. Shippey stayed in Mexico City, he traveled to the roaring oil town of Tampico.

There he worked as publicity man for the United States Chamber of Commerce and later as editor of a newly-established English language paper.

He made his living as a free-lance writer for several years, but when his family totaled five he forsook the uncertainties of free-lancing for a regular pay check on The Los Angeles Times.

One day the remark of a woman best-seller author at a literary club exasperated him. "What do you do besides writing your column, Mr. Shippey?" she inquired sweetly.

That needled Mr. Shippey into a decision. He would write a novel. He got up at 6 a.m. and wrote an hour a day for himself. "People ask me about my early struggles," he grinned. "I had my early struggles all right—with an alarm clock."

Result of his morning typewriter sessions was published under the title of "Nothing Ever Happens."

Later came three more books, "The Girl Who Wanted Experience," "The Great American Family," which became a play as well, and "If We Only Had Money."

Accompanied by his wife on his first visit to British Columbia, Mr. Shippey leaves today for Vancouver.

Fight Story Sent On Biggest Circuit

Perhaps the longest leased-wire teletype printer circuit ever set up for a sporting event, tonight supplied Western Canada newspapers served by The Canadian Press with a blow-by-blow account of the Louis-Conn world championship fight.

Sent by teletype from the ringside at Yankee Stadium, the story was relayed automatically from the New York office of The Canadian Press to Toronto and from there to Victoria through all principal Western cities.

Squires served with the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals, and was wounded and taken prisoner by Japanese at the fall of Hongkong. He is at present in Shaughnessy Military Hospital. His wife resides at Qualicum Beach.

Britain Issues New Victory Stamp

Here is a new British Victory stamp, the two and a half penny, in blue. When the stamp went on sale for the first time in London, collectors lined up all night outside the Leicester Square Post Office to make sure of getting the new item for their albums.

Murder Verdict Returned In Fatal Beating of Child

A verdict of murder by a person or persons unknown was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury probing the death of Rosan James, five-year-old Indian girl, of 845 Viewfield Road, Esquimalt, believed to have met her death last Thursday as a result of brutal beating.

Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, presided over the inquest held at Hayward's Ltd. B.C. Funeral Co.

Dr. J. H. Moore, who performed an autopsy, said bruises and lacerations covered the greater part of the child's body. Death was caused by hemmorhages in the brain and small intestine and numerous cuts and bruises, he said.

In answer to questions from Dr. Hart, Dr. Moore said it might have taken the child several hours to die after the beatings and that they may have been inflicted over two or three days. The wounds appeared to have been inflicted by some blunt instrument, he testified, adding that both arms of the child showed "up to 30 marks," which appeared to have been made by fingernails.

"To a lay person would the wounds appear sufficient to cause death?" asked D. G. Lawson, defence counsel.

"Yes, definitely," Dr. Moore answered. "The scalp wounds were deep and must have caused considerable bleeding."

Frederick Tingley testified he was working within 70 feet of the James home at 845 Viewfield Road at noon last Thursday. He heard a child scream as if in pain and later another scream followed by the sound of a slap and a woman's voice crying, "Now will you scream."

HEARD SOBBING OF CHILD

Later, during the afternoon, he was working nearby with a saw. Several times during the afternoon when the saw was silent the sound could be heard of a child sobbing, Tingley stated.

Henry James, uncle of the dead child, said he left home shortly after seven on Thursday morning. Returning to the house shortly before six in the evening he found his wife with the child in her arms trying to help the little child to breathe."

"I looked at her and saw she was gone and told my wife not to bother," he stated.

In answer to a question from G. H. Sedger, Esquimalt prosecutor, James said Rosan had not been well for some time and would not eat. "She had a boil on her head and one on her shin and sores on her hands and feet."

Noting Rosan was dead, he laid her on her cot and left with his wife for Sidney to notify the child's mother, Hilda James.

Hilda James, after viewing the body, testified it was her five-year-old daughter, Rosan. She had last seen the child June 9 at Sidney. The child had been sick for some time and had "boils," she said.

In his charge to the jury, Dr. Hart pointed out that medical evidence showed the child had died of beatings and that the "so-called boils" were not boils but bruises.

The law says that those who have responsibility for the care of children may use force to correct a child, he told the jury, but it was up to the jury to decide if the proper use had been made of this right.

Canada, Britain Negotiating Deal on Wheat

OTTAWA, June 19 (CP).—Groups of Canadian and United Kingdom Government officials are meeting daily behind closed doors seeking to work out a wheat agreement and word today is that good progress is being made.

Aim of both sides is to have an agreement that will fix a definite price for wheat over a term of years.

The best guess seems to be that a four-year term will be decided upon and a price not less than $1.55 a bushel, basis No. 1 Northern at the head-of-the-lakes; price of Canadian wheat now going to Britain.

Before the war Britain normally took around 90,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat each year. The war scare caused Britin to build up its wheat stocks and she took Canadian wheat at the rate of 120,000,000 bushels a year for a couple of years before war actually broke out.

During the war exports to Britain rose as high as 200,000,000 bushels in a single year and it is estimated that in the 12 months ending July 31 next, the export total will be close to last year's 147,000,000 bushels.

Find Missing Girl At Home of Uncle

Reported missing from her home at 641 Chatham Street since June 4, 15-year-old Mabel Jean Clark has been located in Kilgard—50 miles out of Vancouver—where she had been living with her uncle, city police were informed last night.

The girl's father, F. E. Clark, went to Vancouver yesterday to bring the girl home.

City Hall Briefs

A considerable number of children have taken advantage of the offer of free medical examination prior to starting pre-primary or first grade school in September, according to Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical health officer. About 30 examinations have been made this week, he stated.

Issuance of tax bills, delayed by a shortage of paper, is now under way, with about 30 per cent of the notices already mailed, according to the office of the city assessor-collector. The remainder of the bills will be sent out within the next three weeks.

Replying to a request from the City Council asking that civil servants park their cars on parking lots and not on streets, A. Dixon, deputy minister of the Department of Public Works, stated a parking space is provided but is used very little. "The point has been that the department does not feel it can regulate the parking by civil servants where it is not on Government ground," a letter addressed to the council stated. "The civil servants have resented the suggestion of such a regulation and claim that unless the city by-laws call for it, and signs are put up or yellow lines drawn, they are free to park wherever it is convenient to them."

D. B. Carley, proprietor of the Victoria Riding Academy, has requested permission from the City Council to place four or five children's ponies and three or four horses at Thetis Lake for the use of tourists during the Summer months.

North Saanich War Memorial Park Society has asked the City Council to permit Rosemary Hurst, Victoria May Queen, to participate in presentation of prizes for a carnival queen contest during a sports meet, June 26.

The police commission has recommended to the City Council that the management and responsibility of the short-wave radio system which serves both the police and fire department, be placed in the hands of Police Chief J. A. McLellan.

Gouin Calls for Senate Study In Furthering National Unity

OTTAWA, June 19 (CP).—Senator L. M. Gouin (L., Quebec) called today for special study by a Senate committee of how July 1 should be made into an adequate and appropriate holiday designed to further national unity.

He was the first and only speaker as the Upper House renewed debate on a Commons' bill to change the name of [illegible] Day" to "Canada Day."

Urging that time should be taken to probe deeply into the import of the bill, Senator Gouin suggested a Senate committee make a report on four points:

1. That July 1 should be the national holiday, set aside legally as such.
2. Its most appropriate name—"I favor Canada Day myself but I think we should tackle this in a spirit of compromise."
3. Suggested steps for Federal-Provincial consultations on education in citizenship.
4. Suggested steps by which newly naturalized citizens could be welcomed into the Canadian community on that date.

As for the bill itself, Senator Gouin said he could not see that it would endanger the ties of Empire as some "oversealous imperialists" seemed to fear.

Lavarack Says Infantryman Still Essential

One of Australia's most distinguished soldiers, Lt.-Gen. Sir John D. Lavarack, K.B.E., C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., declined yesterday to indulge in any speculation about the atomic bomb.

"We can only express pious hopes," he said with a wry grin when interviewed at the Empress Hotel.

However, he ventured to predict that the infantryman would still hold his place, bomb or no bomb. On the possibility of another war he maintained a courteous silence.

Lt.-Gen. Lavarack, who has been head of the Australian military mission in Washington for two years, is on his way home, accompanied by Lady Lavarack. They will leave Victoria June 23 for Seattle and San Francisco, sailing for Melbourne July 11.

Asked which he considered the toughest of his numerous actions, he voted without hesitation for the North Africa struggle in Easter 1941, which swept back Rommel and removed the menace to Cairo. Had it not been for the success of Allied arms then, the war might still be on today, he thought.

It was for services in the North African campaign that Lt.-Gen. Lavarack received his knighthood. He was general officer commanding troops in Cyrenaica at the time Rommel was stopped.

Duncan Suggests Voting Changes

DUNCAN, June 19.—Compulsory registration for voters' lists, but no compulsory voting, was the subject of a resolution passed by Duncan Chamber of Commerce. Members condemned the Federal Government system of compiling lists by means of enumerators, and favored Provincial Government arrangements, with amendments. They suggested advance polls, absentee voting, and retention of the $200 deposit by candidates.

It was decided to ask the city council to curb traffic violations by motorists and take action to prevent unnecessary noises in the city.

A motion to hold meetings quarterly instead of monthly was defeated.

Police Discover Death of Man

Coroner E. C. Hart ordered the body taken to Hayward's B.C. Funeral Home.

Says Inner Wards Getting Thin Deal

Councillor Thomas Alexander of Ward 1, Saanich, stated yesterday that at Tuesday's municipal council meeting, speaking of the proposed line of division for Saanich, he was reported to have said: "You are handing the outer wards all the skim milk and the inner wards are taking all the cream."

His actual statement, Councillor Alexander pointed out, was this: "You are handing the inner wards all the skim milk and the outer wards all the cream."

Poland World's Worry Capitals Watch Vote

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Diplomatic informants said today that political conditions in Poland are approaching a critical, perhaps explosive point. Terrorism is widespread and the possibility of a bloody upheaval is not discounted.

The State Department, as the latest in a series of moves reflecting American concern over the situation, [illegible] Lane at Warsaw for a full report on action of the Polish Government in closing six district offices of the Polish Peasant Party in the last six weeks.

The Peasant Party is the political support of Vice Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, who is a member of the Communist-dominated Coalition Government because the United States and Britain insisted that he should be there.

Poland is getting ready for a referendum June 30 on a Communist-supported proposal to create a unicameral legislature. Mikolajczyk is fighting this change.

Whatever happens in Poland is considered certain to be of direct concern to United States, Britain and Russia. London and Washington are particularly interested in seeing that Mikolajczyk's power is not smashed.

When the worst storm in 25 years hit Erieau, 20 miles from Chatham, Ont., damage, placed at more than $250,000, was caused when dikes protecting the rich onion fields were washed away and the land flooded. Flooded farms are below the lake level, and the submerged areas will have to be pumped. Most of the crops, under water like this, will be a total loss.

Communists Support Bidault Favor Two-House Legislature

PARIS, June 19 (AP)—Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, 46-year-old former history professor and newspaperman, and leader of the conservative Mouvement Populaire Republicain, today was elected provisional President of France by the Constituent Assembly, with the Communist Party abstaining.

But the Communists, displaying a surprisingly conciliatory attitude, indicated they may enter M. Bidault's Cabinet and that they would offer no objection to provision for a two-house legislature in the constitution which the Assembly will draft for France's Fourth Republic.

M. Bidault, whose M.P.R. Party ousted the Communists as the strongest single French party in the June 2 elections, was selected at a time when he was helping the four-power Foreign Ministers' Conference wrestle with peace treaty problems. Only candidate for the Presidency, he received 384 votes when the Communists withheld their 150 to underscore a preference for a Government headed by the Socialists.

Communist Leader Jacques Duclos indicated his party was willing to make concessions on the constitution.

"We will admit a second chamber that will be a chamber of study and not a political chamber," he said. "We will not consent that the chief of state be a puppet but we do not want him to be an absolute master."

Britons Facing Lean Winter Diet Lower Than War Years

LONDON, June 19 (CP)—Britons received today a clear outline of what their meagre diet is likely to be throughout the winter, and it stacked up like this:

Meat—Worse than hardest war days.

Bacon—Likely to reach lowest war level.

Milk—Must take second place to bread production.

Eggs—Recent increases, at least in public supplies, will be lost.

Agriculture Minister Williams, following up his statement in the House of Commons food debate yesterday, gave that picture in a speech to the Council of Agriculture.

He said it was impossible to outline a program three or four years in advance because of the changing situation regarding supply and demand, but in an address at Nottingham today Herbert Morrison, President of the Council, forecast continuation of the Food Ministry even after rationing ended to ensure a "sound system of guaranteeing prices, stabilizing markets and ensuring that foods people need are available in the quantities they need at prices they can afford to pay."

A resolution urging immediate attention by the Agriculture Ministry to reorganizing distribution and marketing of agriculture produce to reduce gap between prices paid by consumers and received by farmers was passed at the agriculture meeting in London despite protests by a ministry official who said the question would be dealt with automatically by the Food Ministry.

Tribute Paid To Spencer By Premier

Tribute to the late J. W. Spencer as an outstanding citizen who had given much of his time and talent in the community affairs was paid yesterday by Premier John Hart.

"Although carrying the heavy responsibilities of [illegible] although somewhat handicapped by ill health," the Premier said, "Mr. Spencer gave unsparingly of his time, particularly as chairman of the Vancouver Island division of the National War Finance Organization. It was under his leadership that the successive Victory Loans throughout the war were such outstanding successes in Victoria and the contiguous territory. This work took a heavy toll on his strength but he was a man who always placed welfare of the people above his own personal interests.

"As a very active member of the Chamber of Commerce, he took a keen interest in the business and industrial development of Victoria and also in matters of social welfare, finding an outlet through his membership in the Kiwanis Club.

"I join with his wide circle of friends in extending my sincere condolence to the members of his family in their bereavement," Premier Hart concluded.

Dr. A. E. Whitehouse will conduct funeral services tomorrow. A family service will be held at 1040 Moss Street at 2 p.m., and will be followed by a service in the Metropolitan United Church at 2:30 p.m.

Interment will take place at Ross Bay Cemetery.

CANBERRA, June 19.—The State Governments in New South Wales and Victoria, Australia, are working at top pressure to relieve the acute housing shortage.

Most of the buildings used are wooden, wartime constructions, 100 feet long. Each is being converted into four flats. The accent is on sleeping space, and all flats have either [illegible] large living-room with a kitchen at one end. A community laundry serves each block of four flats.

Rents are $4 a week for a three-bedroom flat, and $4.50 a week for a four-bedroom flat. Electricity and gas are free.

Announce Depots In Saanich Drive

Shortage of collecting vehicles will prevent a house-to-house call being made for the National Clothing Campaign in Saanich Sunday, it was announced yesterday.

Collecting points have been designated for each ward, and residents are asked to co-operate by bringing their clothing to these points. A circular listing depots has been sent to all householders.

Only five trucks are available for collection, campaign officials explained, and a house-to-house canvass is impossible. In charge of the Saanich drive is Robert Brydon, chairman, assisted by C. U. Hayward and Maj. John P. Simon.

Pointing out that cancellation of the project would be proof of good faith in the matter, the telegram stated: "The forthcoming slaughter of defenceless animals for destructive purposes only is seen as a definite detriment to world peace."

Do You Suffer From Headaches?

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

A headache need not be an illness in itself, but it may be a warning symptom that there is intestinal sluggishness within.

To help overcome the cause of headache it is necessary to eliminate the waste matter from the system. Burdock Blood Bitters helps to remove the cause of headaches by regulating the digestive and biliary organs, neutralizing acidity, regulating the constipated bowels and toning up the sluggish liver, and when this has been accomplished the headaches should disappear.

The Wheels Turn

The general public, holding no one's hand in the lumber strike, will be pleased to learn that the dispute is over, and that British Columbia's crippled production can be restored after the woodworkers return to work at 11 o'clock today. The recovery will not be immediate. It will take some time for the logs in the woods to reach the mills, and for cut lumber to be available at woodworking plants. There is also the probability that July 1 will usher in seasonal fire-closure, which would set everyone back again for a further three weeks. It is, however, progress to have the dispute over, and the opportunity of making whatever recovery will be possible in British Columbia's economy in the balance of this year.

The immediate pressure will come in the fruit and vegetable industry. It will be a race now to get packing materials to the fast maturing crops in time to save wholesale spoilage of food. The fish canneries are in better case, and their problem is shipping rather than the loss of the pack. In six weeks-to-two months' time the resumption of lumber operations may make itself felt in the moribund construction industry, brought almost to a halt by the five weeks' dispute. How much of the overseas export trade may be made up in a shortened season remains to be seen.

The public will question sincerely if anyone won in the dispute. The blow struck at British Columbia's reconstruction program was a severe one, greater perhaps than either of the disputants could have realized. Once more the lesson has been driven home that forest products, agriculture, fisheries, manufactures and many other lines of primary and secondary endeavor are closely integrated; that when one wheel stops a good many other wheels slow down and stop. What most British Columbians are looking at today is not a gain but a shortage in their pay envelopes, and one which will take more than the balance of this year to make up.

To Chief Justice Sloan will go some of the credit for the formula which brought the opposing parties together. The task now is to go forward, in step.

Federal Budget

Federal budgets are obviously familiar to the taxpayers of this country. The budget to be brought down by Mr. J. L. Ilsley next week, however, falls in a specially important category. On its provisions depends to a great extent the recovery to equitable levels of the industrial and business life of the nation. A lessening of the present crushing rates of taxation, imposed for prosecution of a war wholly ended by almost a year, is imperative if the evils of inflation and social unrest are to be checked.

At the root of inflation lies lack of production, joined with the contents of the pay envelope. Scarcities cannot be overcome and prices thereby reduced unless business concerns are relieved from the burden of severe corporation and excessive profits taxes. The Socialist Government of Great Britain has seen the necessity of removing such imposts, and its expediency should be even more apparent in a country which has rejected Socialism, in favor of the responsible private enterprise that has been the bulwark of Canada over a long period. Expansion of legitimate industrial enterprise is crippled and will remain so until reduced taxation permits it to function at a high level of production.

The personal income tax at present levels has a corresponding effect. It is the "take-home" pay that is the cardinal factor in labor disputes—not what a man earns on paper, but the amount left to him after tax deductions. Mr. Ilsley is in a position to remove much of the discontent which high prices, following upon low production, have encouraged among individual wage earners.

Canadians look to the Minister of Finance to bring down a budget which will change these conditions materially. The heavy drain of war is over. The huge wartime expenditures are no longer mandatory. There should be ample opportunity for the paring of budget costs. Financial statesmanship, combining realism in the present with vision for the future, is what is needed, and also expected in the budget to come down.

Clothing Drive

Two years ago at this time the Allied armies of the West had landed in France in the greatest crusade of liberation in modern history. In the swift months that followed European nation after nation was freed of the Nazi yoke of tyranny, but the crusade is not yet finished. Minds were released from fear, but bodies remain to be fed and clothed. Through such agencies as U.N.R.R.A. and the United Nations, food is flowing from the New World to the Old, to complete the task begun and carried out with high endeavour on the beaches of Normandy. A second national call has now gone out for clothing, and it is one that cannot go unanswered.

Responsibility for relief of those left destitute by war did not end with the "cease fire." There is a continuing obligation resting on more favored nations to give succour to the hapless millions they set physically free. Canada is one of the favored countries, and one whose contribution to the needy of other lands has invariably been willing and timely. This country is not likely to lag behind in response to this latest appeal.

It is not merely as a duty whose moral nature is beyond doubt that Canadians are asked to donate serviceable clothing for the use of others who have little or none. Rather it is an appeal to generosity and goodwill, and the compassion inherent in the people of this Dominion, which have been so well demonstrated in recent years. By any standards, we on this continent are well off. By comparison with millions of Europeans, our shortages are superficial. There are few people here but have in their cupboards suits, coats and garments of all kinds that could well be spared.

The drive now taking place across Canada is therefore one that should be assured of success. In the Greater Victoria area the objective is 100 tons of clothing. Good, warm garments, serviceable rather than decorative, are in demand. With each garment the giver may enclose a message of goodwill, thus forming a direct and personal link with the recipient. In this instance the giving should enrich the giver, in the knowledge of a kindly deed well done.

Regimental Honors

Military staff officers at Ottawa, raised too frequently in the "Corps of Infantry" school, are credited with the belief that Canada's future militia should be brought up upon battle dress, to the exclusion of regimental honors inherited from the past. If that is so, it is a subscription to the American and French theories of militia and has small relation to British traditions. Also, in this country it will not work. "Private Smith, of the 237 regiment" of the line, for instance, would neither know what his regiment had ever done, nor would he care. There would lapse the most valuable confidence of a British soldier, his pride in a unit with a name and a place in the long Halls of Time.

The point may be illustrated in modern Canadian history. The Sixteenth Battalion of 1914-18 began as a numbered unit; a composite battalion of Seaforths, Gordons, Argyll and Sutherland and Cameron Highlanders. They mingled their dead at Kitchener's Wood after the German gas attack, in a charge which turned the course of a battle. Wounded and dying men, wearing one of those four tartans, outnumbered the living survivors of that action by three to one. There in action the Canadian Scottish Regiment took its place among the great in British military history. Does Ottawa think that a Highlander will parade without his kilt? It does not know the Scot, if it does.

Another example is that of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, as famous in two world conflicts. At Ypres in 1915, it lost nearly all of its officers and most of its effectives in a galling holding action. Its stand, too, turned the tide of battle, and the "P.P.C.L.I." became one with Canada's honored and great. Is a P.P.C.L.I. man expected now to serve with something like "Canada, 237" on his shoulder? He is not likely to do it.

All units have their pride, but for the infantryman it is his belief in the regiment that sustains him in action; forbids him to be less than his predecessors were. Regimental pride goes to the root of an effective fighting force. It cannot be left out.

Italy Divided

Those conversant with their history know that the Italy of the modern world is itself of recent development. Seventy odd years ago there were welded together in one realm that which for many broken years had been a loose and often quarreling association of impoverished, independent states. Even in the federation and its resultant union there had long been a "north" and a "south"; emphasized by every physical feature of the country, as well as politically. The first popular elections in Italy since the fall of Mussolini, and now of the House of Savoy, have brought an older and perhaps basic cleavage to the surface. Italy is divided again into a north and a south, and they are poles apart in their political thinking. The north triumphed in the current resort to a republican form of government, not unlike that reconstituted in France. The elections, however, have redivided the nation in a schism that has apparently not healed.

Seen in Passing

Man's efforts to reduce his world to order—and not to a state of rubble—will probably proceed faster when he has mastered control over himself. If the human heart were put in order, nearly everything else would flow from that as day follows night. Exorcise fear, want and ignorance, and all men stand alike, wanting the same things and in much the same way.

Lost Days

The lost days of my life until today
What were they, could I see them on the street
Lie as they fell? Would they be ears of wheat
Sown once for food, but trodden into clay?
Or golden coins squandered and still to pay?
Or drops of blood dabbling the guilty feet?
Or such spilt water as in dreams must cheat
The undying throats of Hell, athirst alway?
I do not see them here; but after death
God knows I know the faces I shall see,
Each one a murdered self, with low last breath:
"I am thyself—what hast thou done to me?"
"And I—and I—thyself" (lo! each one saith),
"And thou thyself to all eternity!"

Whale Products

Frank M. Kelley

In a way it is somewhat of a pity that plans for carrying on the whaling industry along the coast of British Columbia were unable to be formulated in good time to engage in the hunt this season. According to all reports, the big mammals are plentiful, particularly in the vicinity of the Queen Charlotte Islands, from stations out of which whaling vessels operated in past years, when the whales were taken during the months of May, June, July, August and September.

Factors preventing operations when it was altogether too late to remedy some of them, included the all-important one of vessels too far gone to engage in a business requiring something especially stout in the way of naval architecture—craft that can take the buffetings of the sea and the strains incidental to the chase, that part of it particularly when the enraged mammal starts tearing away with the hull in tow or chances to smack it with its powerful tail.

What with the world shortage of products such as the carcass of a whale furnishes, and a very real demand existing for them, not being able to place ships in commission by the middle of May, at the latest, meant a considerable loss to operators and to seamen and plant employees as well as to workers in ship repair yards.

Maybe the combined products of the whales which might have been captured by coast whalers this Summer would not have materially relieved the shortage prevailing, but the total would have helped if favorable weather conditions prevailed, and the whales happened to be plentiful as reported. During the last season in which two stations operated on the Queen Charlotte Islands, a total of 328 whales were captured and processed.

VARIETIES OF WHALE

Consisting of 233 sperms, 67 finbacks, 27 humpbacks, and one sulphur bottom, oil amounting to 566,505 gallons was produced, together with considerable quantities of bone meal and fertilizer. Once upon a time the blubber of a whale was a favorite food of the British Columbia Coast Indian; while during prewar years the layer of meat between the blubber and the bone was cut up, salted in brine, and shipped to Japan, where it found a ready market.

It is not at all certain that British Columbia whalers would have done as well this Summer as they did in 1941, the season the 328 whales were taken, but it will be another pity if any combination of circumstances find this—until recently the operating base of whaling hereabouts—or some other B.C. coast port without the facilities to obtain and supply a portion of the world demand for whale products, a demand which will, more than likely, be just as urgent in 1947 as it is at present. This continued shortage is foreseen in Britain, following the poor results obtained by the well-equipped expedition sent into Antarctic waters, and which recently returned to a British port after a lengthy cruise.

Great expectations had been entertained by Britain's Food Ministry prior to the sailing of the three huge factory ships. The officials anticipated they would return with cargoes totalling 76,000 tons of whale product. Little better than half of that amount was unloaded—about 40,000 tons. Besides the main disappointment, British scientists delegated to accompany the whaling ships reported the number of whales hadn't increased perceptibly during the war years since 1941.

Another disappointment experienced by the expedition had to do with the failure of some scientific equipment which had been taken along to make the capture of whales easier than usual. The equipment, of great advantage for certain purposes in warfare, apparently failed to function as desired in connection with whaling operations. It included asdic and radar. Installing the sonic submarine detector, the whalers had believed it would be an easy matter to follow a whale after it submerged and was traveling under water, and be close by when the mammal came up to exhaust its bellows and take in some fresh air.

ASDIC PROVED FAILURE

Somehow or other, for reasons undisclosed, asdic did not work. It was supposed the whales, swifter than U-boats in their movements, rapidly passed out of the "sonic" beam, necessitating, in the end, the gunners to rely on the ancient practice of partly guessing the direction the submerged whale was taking, and the duration of its "sound," with the gunner in a favorable position to shoot when it surfaced.

Whether asdic can be improved to catch and follow sounds caused by the whale as it passes through the water at depths it sometimes attains in its diving is another matter. Very likely man's ingenuity will be equal to a solution. It will likely be the same with radar in the whaling industry.

While radar proved useless on the British Food Ministry's expedition in picking up "blows" of surfaced whales, maybe some little adjustment will yet enable an operator of the instrument to get better results with whales, as well as with icebergs. In locating the latter, it gave poor results, according to reports.

Exponents of Wartime Science Turn to Peace

By DONALD STOKES

LONDON—The scientists of Britain have decided to harness their research to the needs of industry. More than 1,000 research scientists, laboratories, individual physicists and private firms recently held a conference in London, at which ways were discussed of relating the increase of knowledge to the improvement of commercial production.

As a result, a long-range scheme has been started that will aim at extending the scope of industrial research to even the smallest factories, to speed the immediate application of the latest scientific achievements to the production drive, and to obtain a much closer co-operation between "pure natural science" and industry. An integral part of the plan will be the enlargement of the scale of training for natural science in universities. The scheme has the active support of the British Government.

The "backroom boys" of Britain, who during the war produced such ideas as jet-propulsion, penicillin, radar, rocketry, the radio-proximity shell fuse and a considerable part of atomic fission data, will now turn their attention to research that will keep Britain abreast of the latest advantages in commercial technology.

Among the scientific wonders now out of the blueprint state, and in active development by British technicians and scientists are:

Jet-driven locomotives, a trans-Atlantic jet-plane that will cruise at 550 miles an hour and weigh more than 90,000 pounds; new radar devices that will make roads, railways and ports more accident-free; new adaptiones of penicillin and DDT, that will make people healthier and crops more fruitful; and a liner of the "Queen Mary" type driven by atomic power.

Britain is taking these steps in the realization that they are the only way of maintaining her position as the world's largest trading nation—and incidentally, the biggest customer of the rest of the world, particularly the United States. Having sacrificed most of her overseas investments to pay her way while she was fighting alone, Britain now has to live just by what she sells. This means she must increase her exports by 75 per cent over her prewar rate, to maintain not only her own standard of living but the whole delicate structure of international trade. This is only one of the jobs that faces the scientists.

It is planned that every factory, however small, shall maintain a research liaison officer to keep in constant touch with the latest developments in technology.

More than 1,000 British firms already maintain their own research departments, while tens of thousands of smaller firms have joined in co-operative research organizations under the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research. This department maintains the famous National Physical Laboratory, the most elaborately equipped research station in the world, where hundreds of highly skilled men work on pure science. It was here that radar was born and a score of other discoveries that have reshaped the world.

Mr. Herbert Morrison, a member of the British Cabinet, has recently revealed some investigations by British scientists which have led to success. In particular, he referred to two medical research developments arising out of British atomic research—the use of isotypes of special elements for investigating the chemical processes of the human body, and a new treatment of malignant diseases by means of the radio-active by-products of atomic fission. He also mentioned agricultural research, which is vitally necessary if Britain is to continue sending large quantities of food to the Continent out of her own scanty cupboard.

Professor J. D. Bernal, one of the leading British scientists behind the creation of the atomic bomb, said the other day: "The momentum of industrial progress in the atomic age will increase so rapidly that the gap between the scientifically developed and the scientifically static nations will be as great as that between a civilized state and a barbarian one." It is in that frame of mind that Britain faces the next few crucial years.—United Kingdom Information Bureau.

Observation Car

By G.B.

A peep into the future: "Do you have to rush madly from your office once an hour to find if the tires of your automobile have been decorated with chalk by some conscientious policeman? Do you suffer from the Broad Street stoop? Does your back ache periodically? It does? Then what you need is a Bluffnab Imperial Pocket Model Radar Set. This handy device, developed by the Bluffnab Corporation, Trial Island, B.C., after years of research, will enable you to instantly detect the approach of a policeman armed with yellow chalk. The rest is simple. Merely slip behind the wheel of your automobile, tell the officer you are about to pull away from the curb, and then go back to your office and forget your car for another hour. No fuss, no muss, no bother. The Bluffnab Imperial Pocket Model Radar Set positively eliminates dangerous stooping to look for chalk marks on the tires of your car. Simple to operate. Saves your back and adds years to your life." . . . It has been remarked that a man may have more money than brains, but not for long. . . . A neighbor was heard to exclaim that she wished there was such a thing as a ceiling on grocery bills. . . . From The Financial Post: "Everybody loses in a strike, and nobody so much and so surely as the striker and his family. Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor, said nothing new when he told the Commons. The Communist crowd in this country do not want settlement of strikes. It is everywhere recognized that Communism has reverted to its previous policy of fomenting trouble and confusion abroad. Strike leaders do not need to be told that public patience has run out, that the whole cause of organized labor is being seriously damaged and retarded by their current plague of excesses and lawlessness. Almost without exception strikes nowadays are nothing more than plays in the power politics of the labor leader, his main device for strengthening his domination over his group."

WEATHER FORECASTS

Sir,—The Weather Bureau in Vancouver issues our weather reports. This morning's report at 7:40 a.m. from CKWX was cloudy weather. Well, was it? A few weeks ago their report for a week-end (Saturday and Sunday) was continuous rain. For those two days there was not a cloud in the sky. We have a weather bureau on Gonzales Hill, and maybe they know more about the weather than they do in Vancouver. It also might be mentioned that our rainfall is 26.5 inches, and their's is 58. I drive for a taxi firm, and visitors find it hard to believe the difference. It is an advertisement for this city to advertise our equable climate.

CLERK OF WORKS

Sir,—I observe by reports in the press, re the arena, contracts have been let, and work started on this project. Since this job will cost in the way of $300,000, it is very necessary that a clerk of works should be appointed without further delay, whose duty it is to be on the job every working hour to look after the taxpayers' interest; and not left to the periodical inspection of, say, the architects or city officials. I have no desire to cast any reflections on the integrity or ability of said officials, but simply because this is the only sensible method whereby this job can be carried out. Not only will the taxpayers get satisfaction, but the council will be saved a lot of headaches. Said clerk will need to be a very responsible person.

SUNDAY GAMES

Sir,—Whenever the Sunday games question comes up, someone always brings up the old chestnut about "one can worship God in the great outdoors just as devotedly and sincerely as within the walls of a church or cathedral." Perhaps one can, but one very seldom does, and it is quite unlikely on the playing field.

Another fallacy is that which seeks to grant unlimited license for Sunday activities, because of our Lord's saying that "the Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath." The Sabbath was made for man to rest in. The Fourth Commandant stands just the same today, as on the day it was first given to man. Jesus said, "If ye love Me, keep My commandments." We neglect far too many of them today.

HOUSING COSTS

Sir,—Would you kindly give me space to ask why the city does not take over almost completed houses built by private speculators, and sell them to veterans at prewar prices and give the builder a subsidy? That seem to be the only solution for the veteran who doesn't want to live in one of the slum-like dwellings, such as those at Cloverdale, called veterans homes. Yesterday my wife and I went up to look at new houses being built on Roseberry Hill, a workingman's district, where you would expect prices to be reasonable, but these houses of five rooms built partly of second-hand lumber are offered for sale at $10,000, $12,000 to $15,000 each. How can a veteran afford that?

Extra Expense for Saanich Growers But Wholesale Spoilage Seen Unlikely

Although shortage of containers as a result of the late British Columbia lumber strike may mean extra expense and inconvenience for small fruit growers, there is little chance of wholesale spoilage in Saanich, W. C. Kersey, manager of Vancouver Island Co-operative Fruit Exchange, said yesterday.

Fruit growers' principal worry is scarcity of barrels for the loganberry crop, expected to total between 400 and 500 tons. Loganberry picking season begins in about two weeks' time in Keating and Gordon Head.

Greatest proportion of the loganberry crop is treated with sulphur dioxide and shipped in barrels for jam-making. E. H. Butler, manager of Sweeney Cooperage here, said barrel staves and heads should begin to roll off production lines here Monday for assembly in Vancouver, and shipment of barrels would probably begin Wednesday.

"We've lost a month's production, though, and we can never catch up," he pointed out.

Mr. Kersey said a representative of the fruit co-operative had been seeking to buy barrels in the United States, but no report of his success had reached here yet.

If necessary, a number of berries could be shipped in flat crates, but this meant more inconvenience, higher cost and more spoilage in transit. Use of old barrels meant similar risks. However, no large quantity of fruit was endangered.

Strawberry crop was two-thirds over, Mr. Kersey said, and containers seemed sufficient, although some independent growers might suffer. The raspberry crop, due at the end of the week, was small here and could be handled. Sweet cherries, due in three or four weeks, did not pose a serious problem.

B.C. to Expand Education In Citizenship

With an eye to preparations for any future immigration policy that the Dominion may adopt, expansion of education in social studies directed towards better citizenship is being planned by the British Columbia Department of Education, Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, announced yesterday.

Dr. Weir indicated that it is intended eventually to have university extension courses, night schools and adult education classes enlarge their curricula along these lines, with particular emphasis on citizenship.

He pointed out that if Canada intends to open the door to new citizens under some controlled scheme, it is essential that there should be a well-laid plan, common to all Canada, to educate those new citizens in their responsibilities.

To that end, Dr. Weir is working in close collaboration with Ottawa. He emphasized that the provinces and the Dominion must agree on an indispensable minimum in connection with the training of new citizens.

H. L. Campbell, chief inspector of schools for the province, heads a committee studying the proposals, and recommendations will be made to the minister within the next six weeks. Dr. Weir is arranging for a discussion in July with industrialists, businessmen and others interested, who will be invited to make recommendations to the department.

Colorful Dances Feature Display

Colorful maypole and ribbon dances by about 10 children in gay costumes featured a Tillicum School physical education display at Hampton Roads grounds yesterday afternoon.

In the first part of the program was a display of rhythmic exercises by four groups: Grade IV, led by Miss Muirhead; Grades I and II, led by Miss E. Slydn; Grade VI and Grades VII and VIII, led by F. White.

Pupils in costume massed to sing "Come to the Fair" dancing. Dancers and singers were trained by Miss Helen McKinnon. Grades VI and VII gave Canadian folk-dances in costume. Program was organized by Tillicum Principal George S. Taylor. Ice cream was served by the P.-T.A. served by the P.-T.A.

Inspector John Gough presented nine trophies for inter-school sports.

Chief Justice's Son Appears in Court

HON. W. B. Farris, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, today welcomed to the Bar, David Sloan, son of Hon. Gordon McG. Sloan, Chief Justice of the British Columbia Appeal Court, when the younger Sloan made his first appearance in court as a practising lawyer.

"I am very happy that your first application in court should be made before me," Chief Justice Farris said. "Your distinguished father and myself were associated for years in the same law firm, and I hope his son will reach the same eminence he has in his chosen profession."

Insect Expert Retiring Soon

William Downes, agricultural scientist of the Dominion Division of Entomology and acting Provincial entomologist for coastal regions, will retire in the middle of next month after nearly 30 years of service, it was learned yesterday.

His place will be taken temporarily by Dr. Kenneth King, who came here from Saskatoon. Harry Anderson, formerly stationed at Vernon, was to have taken his place, but he is at present in the Kootenays investigating the "Little Cherry" virus infection which threatens to wipe out a large part of the cherry orchards.

Mr. Downes has many achievements to his credit in the control of fruit insects and other parasites. When the strawberry root weevil threatened to wipe out the strawberry crop, a cure was found and methods developed here were later used all over the continent.

He did considerable research in connection with cherry insects, and introduced parasites to combat the earwig. Victoria was the first place on the continent where the apple sawfly was discovered, and under Mr. Downes' direction a cure was found for it.

His immediate successor, Dr. King, is noted for his work with wireworms.

Popular Hotel Changes Hands

Sale of Brenta Lodge, popular resort hotel on Brentwood Bay, was announced yesterday by William Arthur, of the City Brokerage here.

Mr. Arthur stated the property was purchased recently by Capt. Donald H. McKay, a veteran of two wars and a resident of Victoria for the past few years. The former owner was Harold Sandell.

Amount involved in the transaction was not disclosed.

Capt. McKay served with the Royal Canadian Navy for just over five years from June, 1940, and during the latter part of the war was an officer aboard one of the Park Steamships, Ltd., vessels.

He plans to reopen the lodge, which has been closed for some time, and operate it on a year-round basis. Extensive alterations and improvements which will increase the accommodation are planned by Capt. McKay next year.

Among former guests at the exclusive resort were the late Ramsey MacDonald, former Prime Minister of Great Britain and the late Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, of the United States.

Weddings

FRASER—THOMSON

Oak Bay United Church was prettily decorated with gladioli and delphiniums for the marriage on Monday afternoon of Alice Rosalie, younger daughter of Mrs. W. R. Thomson, 836 Monterey Avenue, and the late Mr. Thomson, to Hugh Munro Fraser, elder son of Mrs. D. G. M. Fraser, Kelowna, and the late Mr. Fraser. Rev. W. W. McPherson performed the ceremony. The bride, escorted by her cousin, Mr. T. H. Barbour, was lovely in a white taffeta gown styled with sweetheart neck, puff sleeves and bouffant skirt. From a Mary Stuart headdress trimmed with a spray of orange blossoms, her veil fell to her finger tips. She wore elbow-length gloves, a necklet of pearls, the gift of the groom's mother, and carried a bouquet of red and white roses and carnations. Mrs. Charles Martin, in white crepe accented by a turquoise and rose sash, turquoise hat and powder puff bouquet of bright pink carnations tied with blue streamers, was her sister's only attendant. The bridegroom had his brother, Mr. Ian Fraser, Vancouver, as his best man. The ushers were Mr. Walter Hartman and Mr. William Carter. At the reception held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Thomson and Mrs. D. G. M. Fraser, Kelowna, assisted the young couple in welcoming the guests. Rev. McPherson proposed the toast to the bride. Leaving for a honeymoon in the Okanagan, the bride wore a tourquoise and brown ensemble with pink carnations en corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Fraser will make their home in Kelowna.

During the signing of the register, Miss Grace Adams sang "I'll Walk Beside You." Miss Dorothy Drury presided at the organ. Given away by her father, the bride wore a becoming two-piece dressmaker suit in grey wool with mauve blouse, hat and gloves and a corsage bouquet composed of mauve orchids and violas. The Bride was charming in a gown of white moire silk taffeta with softely draped bodice and low waistline, sweet heart neck and short puff sleeves. Her full veil of embroidered Brussels net was held in place with a Russian coronet. She wore long net mitts, a single strand of pearls, and carried a shower bouquet of red roses, white carnations and swansonia. There were two attendants: Miss Jacqueline Major in pale blue, who was her sister's maid of honor; and Miss Mary Ashe, the bridesmaid in shell pink. Their bouffant frocks were fashioned alike in net over taffeta, and they wore Dutch caps en suite. Mauve and pink Colonial bouquets tied with blue and pink streamers were their floral adornments. Reynolds, Park Drive, Albert Head, to Lieut. Thomas Arthur Dando, R.C.N. (R.), son of Mrs. A. B. C. Dando, Vancouver, and the late Dr. Dando.

Mr. Kenneth Symth presided at the organ.

The bride, given away by her father, was radiant in a period gown of white taffeta embossed with a fern design, long sleeves pointed over the wrists, ruching outlining the square neck, and bouffant skirt edged with self-piping. Her floor-length veil of Brussels net with appliqued embroidery was held to her head with a wreath of orange blossoms. A shower bouquet of pale pink roses, white carnations and swainsona completed the bridal costume.

Miss Mary Reynolds and Miss Florence Dando, sisters of the bride and bridegroom, wearing bouffant frocks of pale blue net over taffeta, were the bride's attendants. Their heads were covered with headdresses of braided taffeta and net en suite, trimmed with pale pink rosebuds. Long pink gloves and Colonial bouquets in pastel shades with matching streamers completed their toilette. Little Miss Rosalie Orwin in white embroidered Anglais to her toe-tips, with crown of white marguerites and a tiny bouquet of similar flowers, was a charming flower girl.

The best man was Mr. Jack Dando and the usher Mr. Geoffrey Reynolds, brothers of the groom and bride.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Park Drive, where Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Dando welcomed the guests with the couple. Mr. Kenneth Moodie proposed the toast.

For a honeymoon trip by motor to Crescent Lake and Portland, Oregon, the bride chose a tailored suit in coral gabardine, with open-crowned hat trimmed with roses, dark brown accessories and roses en corsage. Lieut. and Mrs. Dando will reside in Victoria.

Dorothy Maynor Coming During 1946-47 Season

Dorothy Maynor, beloved negro soprano, is "a must" on the Hilker Attractions Greater Artists' Series, when she makes a welcome re-appearance on their 1946-47 season. Other great stars to appear on the series are James Melton, tenor, Metropolitan Opera; Vronsky and Babin, dynamic two-piano team; Patricia Travers, brilliant young violinist; Martha Graham and her famous dance company, with orchestra; Igor Gorin, of the thrilling baritone voice; the famous Russian brothers, Jan and Mischel Cherniavsky, pianist and cellist; and the Markova-Dolin Russian Ballet Company

Paulette Goddard in Star Role of New Film

The Atlas Theatre is putting out the welcome mat for "Kitty" today, and no wonder. For the young lady involved, played by Paulette Goddard in Paramount's movie version of Rosamond Marshall's best-seller, is as fascinating a wench as filmgoers can ever hope to see. Ray Milland is her co-star, with Patric Knowles, Reginald Owen, Cecil Kellaway, Constance Collier and Sara Allgood heading the important supporting cast.

Thrilling Drama Seen In "Algiers" Picture

The Casbah, refuge of thieves and spies, rendezvous of adventurers and lovers, serves as the setting for "Candlelight in Algeria," one of the most amazing stories of adventure to come out of the war.

A 20th Century-Fox release, the action-packed hit which opens today at the York Theatre, is based on one of the war's most dramatic exploits. Carla Lehmann and James Mason are starred in the George King production.

Robert Donat Stars In M-G-M London Film

The postwar adjustment of a young married couple who find their personalities and their former attraction for each other completely altered after service in the British Navy and the Wrens, forms a touching and absorbing theme in "Vacation From Marriage," current attraction at the Capitol Theatre.

Robert Donat and Deborah Kerr are the principals in this M-G-M London film.

DOMINION THEATRE Darryl F. Zanuck's Technicolor production of "Wilson," the sensational film achievement that holds all Hollywood records for the scope and magnificence of its production, is now showing at the Dominion Theatre. Awarded six Academy Awards in 1944 for best screen play, "Wilson" has been acclaimed the greatest entertainment the screen has ever known.

OAK BAY and PLAZA THEATRES Universal's release, "The Seventh Veil," is now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, with reports terming this story one of the most outstanding human dramas of the year. Plot of the picture revolves around the mental breakdown and psychiatric cure of a celebrated young girl concert artist who, because of injuries to her hands, becomes convinced that she can no longer perform.

EARLY CONSCRIPTS

Conscription is known to have existed in the form of a national militia in Anglo-Saxon England, but its first use in modern times was by Napoleon in 1798.

London Market

LONDON, June 19 (CP).—The stock market today leaned slightly toward lower levels in uneventful dealings. There was a marked absence in the mining section of South African and United States interest. Gilt-edgeds tended toward heaviness, and although stock came into the market, sales were more persistent than severe. Dealings in Anglo-Newfoundland development were freer.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG, June 19 (CP).—Rye futures prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange fluctuated widely today, and moderate gains were scored in the early trade. These were later erased, however, by a liberal selling flurry.

CHICAGO, June 19 (AP).—Selling of oats by Eastern interests broke the November and September contracts from their ceilings during the first few minutes of trading today, but the market recovered quickly from this surprising development, and prices went back to their maximums. According to Culbertson - - - -

Declarers who decide to "take just one round of trumps" sometimes forget that the defenders may strenuously object to a cessation of trump drawing. That was the case in the following deal.

South, dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ Q 9 8 7 6
♥ K 10 6 5 3
♦ 6
♣ 10 3

WEST
♠ 2
♥ J 7
♦ A 9 8 5 4
♣ Q J 9 7 2

EAST
♠ 5 4 3
♥ A Q 9 4 2
♦ K 10 2
♣ 8 6

SOUTH
♠ A K J 10
♥ 8
♦ Q J 7 3
♣ A K 5 4

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
Pass	Pass

West was quite right in feeling that his hand did not warrant a vulnerable overcall—not that he would have been in trouble in this deal. North had so many of his partner's suit that he still would have raised strongly. As it was, of course, the jump to four spades was purely preemptive, and probably the best bid on North's distribution.

West opened the club queen—apparently the safest lead from his holding. Declarer won and for reasons best known to himself, laid down a high trump. He then shifted to the singleton heart, putting in dummy's king, but when East won he promptly followed up declarer's ideas about trump leading. Declarer won East's trump return with the ace, cashed the club king and ruffed a club, but when he led the singleton diamond from dummy East shrewdly put up the king and played still another trump. Now with only one trump left in dummy and one in the closed hand, declarer found it impossible to eke out the contract.

The last thing South should have done in this hand was to touch the trumps! If he had led his singleton heart as soon as possible, and dummy's singleton diamond, he could have established ten tricks for himself without great difficulty.

Bob Jensen Blanks Caps on Six Blows

Big Righthander in Fine Form as Athletics Win 8-0 to Sweep Series — Hughes Hits Homer

All was jubilation in the Victoria Athletics' camp last night.

Picking on the hapless Vancouver Capilanos behind the six-hit hurling of Bob Jensen, the A's handed the Mainlanders an 8-0 whitewashing to sweep the abbreviated three-game series.

The win left the Victorians only four and one-half games out of seventh place. With 11 more games against the Caps in the next ten days, hopes are high that the two clubs will soon exchange positions in the league standings.

Jensen was in superb form and never in serious trouble as he racked up his second win in three days and scored the first shutout hurled by a Victoria pitcher this year. The big right-hander added to his imposing strikeout total by whiffing nine of the light-hitting Caps.

Their line-up riddled by injuries, the Capilanos turned in another poor performance and committed five errors, most of which played a part in the scoring. Alec Palica made his second start of the series and was charged with his second loss, but stuck around to the finish.

Victoria went into the lead in the second when they counted twice. Hughes doubled to left centre and Marionetti bounced a drive off Palica's glove. Retrieving the ball, Palica hurled it against the first base bleachers, Hughes scoring and Marionetti going to third, scoring after Buccola skied out.

VANCOUVER FIRST SACKER BOOTS THREE IN INNING

Three more runs come over in the third when Lou Estes, a reformed third baseman playing first base, was charged with three errors. The three boots allowed Steele to score after he hit an easy roller to short. Hughes walked and doubles by Marionetti and Dunn accounted for the other pair of runs.

Hughes pounded out a two-run homer in the seventh and Dunn angled across the eighth run to complete the scoring.

DIAMOND DUST

Fontaine, Athletics' new catcher, made his first appearance and handled himself well. . . . Vic Buccola continues his sensational defensive play at first base. He saved an error for Dunn with a pretty play in the ninth, when he leaped high for a bad throw and tagged Gulan out as he came down. . . . Victoria's Reg Clarkson, playing in the Vancouver outfield, also came up with a great play when he took Murphy's fly ball in the sixth after a long run. . . . Beans Marionetti has apparently found his batting eye. He included a double among his three hits last night for a perfect performance at the plate. . . . Victoria pitching seems to have settled down and fans can look forward to continued improvement. . . . John Carpenter is improving each time out. Tony Ferrara only needs a few breaks and Joe Blankenship seems to have found himself. With Jansen able to get proper rest, the staff is shaping up nicely. . . . Vancouver received a boost last night when it was announced that Pete Jonas would join the club from the Seattle Rainiers as an outfielder.

Dodgers' Pete Reiser Pilfers Home With Bags Loaded

With the bases full in the fifth inning, Centrefielder Reiser, of the Brooklyn Dodgers, slides home safely after Shortstop Reese, left, bat in hand, faked a bunt. The catcher is Seminich, of the Philadelphia Phillies. Umpire Conlon calls the play in this game. The Dodgers defeated the Phillies, 6-3, at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Fancy Captures Royal Hunt Cup

ASCOT, Berks., England, June 19 (CP).—Fancy, a five-year-old with a reputation for being unlucky, today won the Royal Hunt Cup over seven furlongs and 155 yards in the feature race of the Royal Ascot's second day.

O. V. Watney's entry, starting at 15 to 2, beat Slide On by three lengths over a slow track in the handicap race, worth about £2,600 (about $11,375). Poolfix was third among 19 16 entries.

It was the first victory for Fancy since 1944 and only second triumph in a 16-race career.

Today's program drew a large crowd despite heavy rains.

Pirates Blanked 7-0 By Dodger Rookie

Joe Hatten Pitches Seven-Hit Ball to Maintain League Lead—Cards Triumph

Baseball has its surprises too. And yesterday it came through with one for Leo (Lippy) Durocher, manager of 'em Brooklyn boys.

Joe Hatten, the Bronx hurler, came through with a shutout after dropping or being knocked out of his last six games.

The highly-touted rookie pitcher, who hadn't shown so well to date, knocked out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-0, in a National League game.

And that just after Boss Durocher had been casting for a moundsman who could go the route.

The Brooks jumped on Preacher Roe, the Pirates opening left-hander, in the first inning for four runs. The Bues helped them with three of their five errors for the day.

Two more runs in the sixth and another in the seventh completed the tally.

Ewell Blackwell of Cincinnati Reds, who pitched his division to the United States 3rd Army championship, dropped a 3-4 National League verdict to New York Giants after pitching no-hit, no-run ball for the first six innings, and St. Louis Cardinals set off a pair of four-run explosions to overwhelm Boston Braves, 8-3, before 17,641 fans.

In the only American League game played, Virgil Trucks blanked the Philadelphia Athletics, 3-0, as the Detroit Tigers resumed their bid to overhaul the distant Red Sox. All other games were postponed due to rain or wet grounds.

Noble King Takes Winnipeg Feature

WINNIPEG, June 19 (CP).—Noble King, seven-year-old black gelding from the Sam Ross Stable, Calgary, won the feature race at Polo Park here today in a driving finish. Long shots were still overshadowing the favorites as the fourth day of the 14-daw Spring meet concluded.

Highest price of the day came in the fourth race when Token's First from the Pincher Creek, Alta., string, romped in first to pay off at $40.65, $14.25 and $4.65 across the board.

The daily double, Great Leader in the first to Battleford in the second, paid $88.85.

King's Honor won the seventh race and combined with Toomuch for a quinella of $32.85.

N.H.L. Will Pay $20,000 To C.A.H.A. for Players

NEW YORK, June 19 (CP).—Deadlocked over the 1946-47 schedule the National Hockey League's board of governors adjourned tonight to attend the Louis-Conn heavyweight fight with little prospect of getting out of New York before tomorrow.

On the third day of their annual meeting the governors, owners and managers elected officers, discussed by-laws and got to work on drawing up a new constitution. The question of the league presidency did not come up and will be set over until September, when President Mervyn (Red) Dutton's contract runs out.

Major accomplishment of today's meeting was an agreement between the N.H.L. and the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and the International Ice Hockey Association which provided for the payment of $20,000, next season to the amateur group for players drafted into the major loop.

Dr. George Hardy, of Edmonton, president of the I.I.H.A., said that last year the C.A.H.A. was paid only $5,180 for N.H.L. player drafts.

SAME RULES TO APPLY FOR PROS AND AMATEURS

Hanson Dowell, of Middleton, N.S., president of the C.A.H.A., said the N.H.L. and his body also discussed rule changes and the handling of junior players. Under the amateur-professional arrangement a player may be signed by a pro team when he is 16 but cannot jump to professional company until he is 18.

"Wherever possible the rules used by the N.H.L. will be used by C.A.H.A. teams," he said.

President Dutton said the application of a Philadelphia group to operate an N.H.L. team next year had been turned down because the league felt it would be impossible to build a suitable rink in Philadelphia by December 1.

Question of the N.H.L. entering the Pennsylvania city is the main point of disagreement between the A.H.L. and the N.H.L. after a wartime absence, the A.H.L. will resume operations in Philadelphia next year.

The election of committees and officers today saw only one major change. Clarence (Happy) Day, coach of Toronto Maple Leafs, replaced Frank Selke on the board of management. Selke retired from the Maple Leaf Gardens Corporation recently.

Col. Clarence Campbell, formerly of Edmonton, a one-time N.H.L. referee, was appointed executive assistant to Dutton.

Joe Gets $577,000 And Conn $289,000

YANKEE STADIUM, June 19 (CP).—For Joe Louis tonight's was his last fight at least until 1947. He had planned to try another one in September, but there is no challenger left ready to try trading anything but golf shots with him — and there are few of those, inasmuch as he's down in the low 70's now.

What's more, income tax from his estimated cut of some $577,000 from the gate officially announced at $1,925,564 for this fight puts him well into the upper brackets, with no financial point in fighting again this year. Conn's "end" figured to be about $289,000.

Ring Days Finished For Conn

NEW YORK, June 19 (CP).—Billy Conn, his challenge for the heavyweight crown beaten down tonight by Joe Louis by a knockout in the eighth round, declared himself finished as a boxer in an after-fight statement.

"I guess all there is to do now is rack up my cue," he said.

"I'm finished. I just didn't have it out there and there's no use getting my head knocked off."

Johnny Ray, Conn's manager, endorsed the remarks of his fighter.

"Billy will never go in a ring again," he said. "I don't want him to get punchy."

To the thousands who had paid up to $100 a seat to see the title fight the end came as a shock. Another shock, too, was Conn's poor showing in the early rounds.

Billy, whose dazzling speed tied up Louis in their 1941 fight, was not at any time the same fancy man. As a matter of fact, the big Brown Bomber from Detroit, who was supposed to be strictly a slugger in this engagement, outfought Conn by a wide margin.

A late-comer asked what had happened. Billy laughed.

"He hit me on the jaw, that's all," he said. "I had planned to keep moving and tire him out, and was all ready to go to work on him when it happened. He's a great puncher. I heard the count, but I couldn't get up."

Hoyle-Brown Protest Loss to Ciros

HOW THEY STAND

	W.	L.	Pct.
Ciros	9	1	.900
Hoyle-Brown	7	5	.583
Legion	0	10	.000

Last night's score: Ciros 4, Hoyle-Brown 3.

Next game, Friday: Canadian Legion vs. Ciros, Central Park, 6:30 p.m.

A ninth-inning error by Pitcher Stan Tenning cost Hoyle-Brown the game last night at Central Park as Ciros chalked still another win in the senior fastball circuit.

The hue and cry about the 4-3 victory has not died down, however. Lloyd Jones, Hoyle-Brown manager, stated that his club will protest the game to the local league, as the winning run scored following a questionable decision by Umpire Reeve.

Here is what happened. With one out, Garnet walked and Andrews got on by virture of an overthrow to first by Tenning. On the error, Garnet scored the tieing run and Andrews advanced to third as the ball rolled far into foul territory beyond first base. Harris then filed out, and Andrews came in after the catch with the winning run.

Wholesalers claim that the two Ciros players should only have been allowed a single base on the overthrow, so the decision of who will get credit for the win, or whether the game will be thrown out now lies with the league officials.

The rest of the game was close. Scoring two runs in the first inning, Hoyle-Brown held Lackie's men until the sixth, when Norm Baker tied it up with a homer with one man on base. The Jonesmen added another in the seventh on a pair of hits, then Ciros snared their marginal pair in the disputed ninth.

In the women's senior "B" league, Hopefuls beat Sidney, 10-6; Adverts took the W.R.C.N.S., 15-3, and Army-Navy Taxi won over J.H. & E., 18-8.

Old-Time Dynamite In Champ's Gloves Too Much for Conn

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, June 19 (CP).—The punch that has made Joe Louis the greatest fighter of his time offset the years the Brown Bomber has been away from his fistic trade tonight and left his crown as king of the ring still perched on his head in the most-ballyhooed sports event in history.

Putting his heavyweight championship on the line for the 22nd time since he tore it off the head of ancient Jim Braddock, the "Tan Terror" of the fight world overcame the strongest challenge in his nine-year reign by knocking out game but out-punched Billy Conn in the eighth round of their return match, just as he did it five years ago in the 13th. Louis weighed 207 pounds to Conn's 182.

JOE LOUIS

Some 45,266 fans—below the hoped-for estimate of a packed house in this huge ball yard—roared their cheers as the Bomber flashed his old-time dynamite for one brief instant to land four fierce blows and wipe out the threat that has been hanging over him for five years—since they last met. For seven rounds Louis stalked his rival, as an infantry sniper stalks the enemy in wartime. The action was slow. Joe inched forward and Billy circled out of the danger from the other Joe carries in his gloves.

Mostly is was just left-handed pecking, with a few jabs and a few hooks and a rare right-hand attempt.

Then, midway in the eighth, Joe manoeuvred his man into position. He hit out with a long, lashing left that straightened Billy up on his heels. The handsome challenger was wide open. In a flash, Louis was in. His right ripped over twice like a pile-driver pounding a hole into the mud. Billy started to come down, slowly, like a building falling apart after a shell hits it.

Then came a slashing, murderous left—and it was over. The Pittsburgh Pretty Boy hit the canvas. He lay flat on his back, his arms outstretched, and Referee Eddie Joseph—the same man who counted him out five years ago in the Polo Grounds, across the Harlem River—counted the same full ten. Billy had barely stirred when Joseph finished. He could have counted another ten. At two minutes 19 seconds of the eighth the end came.

(The blow-by-blow description of the fight is on page 14).

Hitting Pretty Good, Joe Quips May Go to Mexican League

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, June 19 (CP).—From the mob standing on each other's shoulders in the champion's steaming dressing-room came a voice strong enough to be heard through the din.

"Hey, Joe, what're your plans? Gonna fight again this year?"

"I dunno," replied Joe Louis. "I may go down to that Mexican league. They tell me I hit pretty good."

That was typical of the cool, sharp way the Brown Bomber parried and thrust into the barrage of questions, just as coolly as he had picked off Billy Conn's best and sharply as he had sent those final three punishing punches home.

Joe identified them, in their proper order. Number one was a right cross. Number two was a right uppercut. Number three and curtains was a left hook.

Did Conn hurt him the one time he landed a left on Joe's head.

"Didn't hurt," said Joe, between slugs out of a quart bottle of mineral water and bites into a section of orange. "It hit me too high."

Could he remember having an easier fight?

"Well," said Louis, in that typical easy-going drawl, "I seem to remember a guy named Levinsky."

Billy had fought about the way Joe had anticipated, with no surprises. The challenger was slower than he had been five years ago. Joe confirmed that silently, simply by nodding, because the water bottle was tilted to his lips at the moment.

The finish?

That hadn't been any great surprise, either.

"I told Manny," and he nudged Trainer Manny Seamon, standing beside him above the mob on a dressing-room bench, "I told Manny at the start of the eighth I was gonna fight him this round, just to see how he'd react."

He was the same calm, quiet-speaking Joe who came out of the Alabama cotton fields by way of Detroit and soared up the trail to a spot not only as the greatest fistic destroyer of his generation but as one of the best-liked ever to put on a pair of gloves.

After the last Louis-Conn bout, the great negro champion put his crown up twice, early in 1942, in the most gallant pair of gestures any champion has ever made—giving his entire purse once to Army Emergency Relief, and once to Navy Relief.

TOAST and TEA

By J. V. McAREE

IN his Life, a Study of Self, W. B. Maxwell argued that it is a fallacy, embalmed in all the old literature and religions, that life is short. "On the contrary," he says "it is immensely long, almost limitless if you measure it by its possibilities. Only empty lives are short. The more you fill a life, the longer it stretches out. But the vast majority of people are too timid really to live their lives. They are absurdly apprehensive of breaking down the delicate framework of mind and body if they give it much to carry or much to do. They ignore the evidence that constantly proves how use tends to increase power rather than to deplete it. Time is not truly scarce; it is ours in rich abundance. We need not fear. As with spiritual energy, we possess infinitely more of it than we ever use. If we ceased to waste time we should come into a large fortune of it each day of our lives."

Round-by-Round Summary Gives Louis Wide Margin

(By Teletype Direct to The Daily Colonist From the Stadium Ringside)

The blow-by-blow account follows:

ROUND ONE

ROUND TWO

ROUND THREE

Conn tore in with a hook to the head and body. Joe flicked to the face with his left and took one in the face in return. Joe reached over with a long left high on the head. Conn tossed a hook to the body. They exchanged long left jabs. Joe was short with two left leads. Suddenly Billy slashed in with a hard hook to the body and another to the face. They traded lefts with no damage. Joe stabbed out with a long left to the midsection. Joe's left hook was picked off and Billy stuck two lefts to the tummy. Joe hooked a left to the head at the bell. Conn's round.

ROUND FOUR

They still were measuring each other. Conn came in with a left hook to the body and received a left and right to his own midsection. They traded long left jabs and repeated the process. For fully 15 seconds not a blow was tried by either man. Joe cornered Conn and ripped two lefts and a right to the head. Joe was just short with a smashing right and jabbed two sizzling lefts to the face. Conn pecked away with a jab and took two of the same from Joe. Joe was very wild with a right cross, but bounced a hard straight left off Billy's face. He put three more in the same spot. Conn half-slipped on the ring flooring and Louis stepped back just as the bell sounded. Louis' round.

ROUND FIVE

Louis jabbed twice with his left as Conn circled him. Another jab reddened Conn's face. They traded short lefts to the body. Billy picked off two lefts and landed a hook to the face as Joe dug a right to the body. They exchanged jabs. Joe was just short with another ripping right. Louis leaped in with a hard right hand that shook Conn. Joe caught Conn with a smashing right and left to the head. Louis flicked with a jab. Conn flicked a right to the face. Louis caught Conn in a corner with a hard right to the body, but took a left and right from Conn at the bell. Louis' round.

ROUND SIX

Joe reached out a long left to the face and repeated the process. Billy circled out of trouble and jumped in with a left to the head. Joe landed two left jabs. Joe tried three more left jabs but only one landed. Conn flecked away with four left jabs. Louis caught Conn against the ropes with a left to the head and a right to the ribs. In close, Louis bounced a left off the ear. Joe drew a right cross high on the head. Conn jumped in with a swinging hook to the ear, circling away slipped to one knee. They traded hard left jabs. Billy grinned as Joe landed another jab. Louis was wild with a long left and took a jab to the nose at the bell. Louis' round.

ROUND SEVEN

They both were short with left leads. Louis landed a jab on the forehead. Joe dug a left to the body. Conn danced in with a hard left to the ear and then took a short chopping left on the face. Joe measured Billy against the ropes, but Conn closed in before Louis let go the punch. Louis straightened Conn up with a left jab, but his follow-up right was too high to make trouble. Conn hooked a left to the body but took left-right and left to his own midsection in close. Conn ducked as Joe fired a right to the body. Billy landed a hook flush on the mouth, but took a left to the head at the bell. Louis' round.

ROUND EIGHT
